Ohio Farmers Predict Trouble if Order Stands.

CITIES FOR REAPPRAISEMENT

Hearings Held at Columbus Closed By Commission.

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — After a solid week spent largely in holding protests against the order for a reappraisal of real estate in six counties of Ohio, the state tax commission today announced that it will hear no more arguments on the subjects. Several counties requested that the hearing be continued into another week, but members of the commission were of the opinion that since all the statements were made about the same time, as no necessary for prolonging the investigation.

FARMERS' APPROVE — Farmers' organizations were unanimous against the reappraisal order, deeming that with the decline in prices of their products and a decline in values there was no way of determining the value of farm lands at this time. They said they were trying to evade paying taxes, but a state of taxation but believed that this was not the time for reappraisal. Some professed the belief that a reappraisal in their counties at this time would almost cause a riot.

UTIS BACK ORDER — Delegations from Cleveland, Akron, Dayton and Springfield representing city and county officials and citizens organizations in these cities, favored a reappraisal, saying that their property had been reappraised in 1918 and that it was not fair to allow six counties to remain unchanged. In many of them there has been no reappraisal since 1918.

"The order for a reappraisal made by the tax commission several weeks ago has been temporarily suspended until February 1. Before the date the commission will determine whether the order shall stand or be rescinded."

FAREWELL TOAST TO FAMOUS FRISCO BAR DRUNK IN GINGER ALE

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — The Palace Hotel bar, whose lustrous mahogany had been the resting place of many a famous elbow, where many big mining and business deals of the early days of San Francisco were consummated, is gone.

Its passing was celebrated quietly yesterday. The farewell toast to the place, eloquent with memories of ancient convivialities, was drunk in ginger ale.

The original bar was built in 1890. It was rebuilt after the fire and earthquake in 1906. Behind the bar hangs a famous Maxfield Parrish painting "The Pied Piper." The bar, a soft drink dispensary since the advent of prohibition, will be converted into an annex to the hotel grill.

WILD MAN TAKEN

Caught Wife in Steel Trap, Tells Mississippi Sheriff.

LAFRFL, Miss. — (By Associated Press) — Driven from his cabin in the swamps along Leaf river by high water, Albert Parsons, an aged white man and a woman who says he is his wife, were brought to Laurel today and placed in the county pothouse. The finding of Parsons is believed to set at rest the reports of a wild man, current for years, said to be living in this section.

Parsons says that he and his wife, lived on wild root berries and what animals they were able to trap. With them when found was a child, which in spite of the cold, was entirely without clothing. Parsons told the sheriff that he caught his wife in a steel trap many years ago.

ADOPT A CHILD — Mr. and Mrs. William H. Williams, 270 S. Elizabeth-st., have adopted as their own, Donald Earl Braun, one-year-old, in probate court. Name of the little one has been changed to William Henry Williams, Jr.

MARTENS SCORNS U. S. LUXURY

Soviet Envoy Declines Ship Accommodations Offered.

BIDS FAREWELL TO AMERICA

Deported Russian Ambassador Sails for Sweden.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Nearly two years' effort by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens to gain recognition by the United States government, as the ambassador of Russia, Soviet government, ended today with his departure for Gröteborg, Sweden, on board the steamship Stockholm. It was the final execution of an order from the department of labor for his deportation as an undesirable alien.

Hundreds of personal friends of Martens and of his "ambassadorial" status of forty-two crowded the docks to bid him farewell. Although the department of labor offered the best accommodation the ship affords, Martens declined, saying he wished to buy a ticket and travel like any other passenger.

Before boarding the ship Martens issued a statement expressing "grateful appreciation for the great personal pleasure to find everywhere men and women who have not allowed historical fears or prejudice to move them from their sympathy with the cause I have represented."

WOMAN INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

WARREN — Mrs. Thomas Koehler today is facing a trial for first degree murder in connection with the death of her two children whose bodies were found in the ruins of their burned home, near Hubbard, last month. The indictment was returned last night by the Trumbull county grand jury.

CINCINNATI — Mrs. Arthur O. Choate of New York was re-elected president of the National Council of Girl Scouts.

SMILES AT UNDERTAKING PARLORS BRING RAIDS; LIQUOR IN FINE CASKETS

CHICAGO — Checking up today on liquor they seized at the undertaking parlors of Jackson and Harris, prohibition enforcement agents listed nearly 100 gallons of various kinds of liquor. Smiles instead of tears were on the faces of visitors to the undertakers, neighbors noticed, and a squad of prohibition agents arrived suddenly.

In a purple casket, lined with light grey satin, three dozen quarts of high grade Scotch whiskey reposed, more whiskey was found in a body casket, while the casket capboards lining the rear room of the establishment were loaded with whiskey, the agents said.

Sam Harris, one of the partners, was arrested.

BOMB FUSE CUT

Explosion Prevented by New York Night Watchman.

NEW YORK — A sputtering fuse, attached to a large square bomb in the basement of a house in process of reconstruction, in Brooklyn, was cut in the nick of time early today by the night watchman, Tony Franko.

The fuse was severed two inches from the bomb.

Franko was so badly burned while hacking at the fuse with a pocket knife that he had to be taken to a hospital where his condition was said to be serious.

He told physicians that as he went into the cellar he saw the dark forms of two men, one of whom had just lighted a match. When he shouted to them, they ran away after firing shots at him.

LANDLORDS FINED FOR FAILING TO SUPPLY HEAT

CHICAGO — Two landlords were fined $200 and costs, the maximum under a city ordinance, by Municipal Judge Joseph W. Schulman today for failing to supply sufficient heat to "insure the health of their tenants."

The cases were brought by J. D. Robertson, health commissioner.

HALT IN DISARMING PLANS ASKED BY ELIHU ROOT

Question Should be Left Entirely Up to the New Administration, He Says In Letter to Head of the House Naval Committee

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The question of total or partial disarmament should not be discussed by the United States with other nations pending a change of administration, March 4, Elihu Root, who helped to form the International Court of Arbitration under the league of nations, declared today in a letter to Chairman Butler of the house naval committee.

The precise method of procedure Mr. Root said, ought to be determined after and not before Mr. Harding and his secretary of state have had an opportunity to inform themselves and to reach conclusions as to the way which affords the best prospects of success.

Mr. Root declared his strong belief that steps should be taken promptly after the new administration is established to bring about a general agreement for disarmament.

"BABY SAN FELICE" CIGAR MAKES ITS APPEARANCE

The Deisel-Wemmer company Friday introduced a new "Baby San Felice" cigar to smokers. This cigar is provided with wrappers such as are used on El Verso and San Felice cigars, but from material too short to be of any use in the making of the larger smokes.

The output for the present will be 100,000 a week and the increase in output will depend on the demand for this brand.

Bands are now being placed on the larger San Felice brand. This is being done," said Henry Wemmer, "to protect the consumer and to avoid mistakes in selling some other brand of cigar out of a San Felice box."

ORDERED HALTED BY NEW REGIME

Stopped for Contract Prohibited by Gov. Davis.

COURT ACTION THREATENED

Present Agreements in Legal Form, Taylor Asserts.

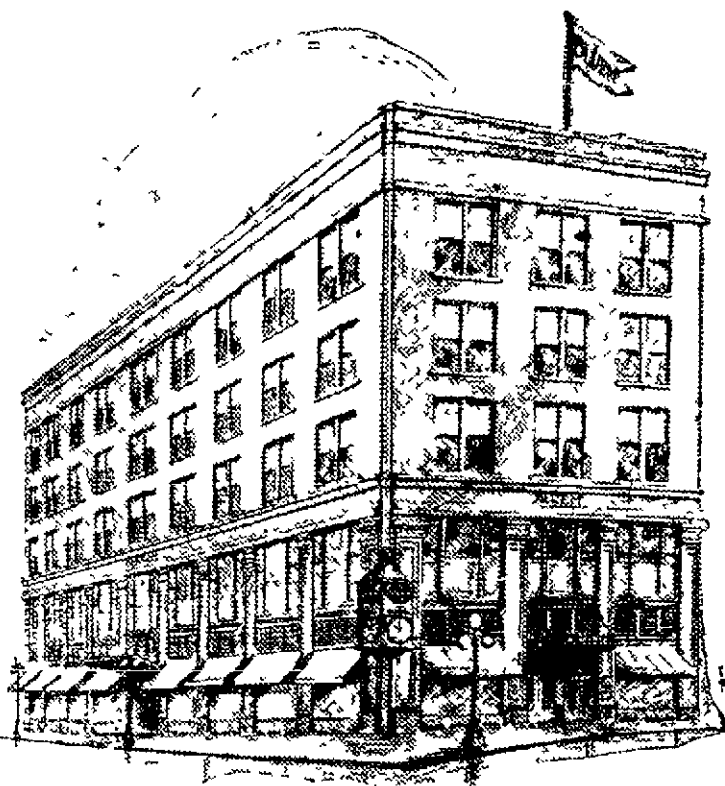

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The last letting of road contracts by the state highway department December 31, amounting to about $3,000,000, is being investigated by Governor Davis and the legislative reorganization committee, it became known today.

Leon C. Herlick of Norwalk, new highway commissioner appointed by Governor Davis yesterday, will be instructed when he takes office Monday, it is said, to hold up these contracts and ask for new estimates.

A. R. Taylor, former Democratic state highway commissioner, declared today that these contracts had all been let and signed and nothing short of court action could stop their being carried out. Some of them were signed on the day of the letting, he said, and bonds were given for the performance of the contracts on January 10. This was the day Governor Davis was inaugurated and the day before Taylor was dismissed by Davis.

The contracts let at this time represent many important highway improvements, included among the jobs being pavement of ten miles of the National pike, midway between Columbus and Springfield, and improvement of N. High-st. in Columbus.

LOCAL TEAM OF AMERICAN LEGION SWAMPS DAYTON CETTILES BY SCORE OF 75 TO 10; GOULD RETAINS TITLE AS INDOOR TENNIS CHAMP

LEGION BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FROM 'CETTILES' BY BIG SCORE

Playing their best game so far this season, the local post American Legion basketball team had little difficulty in trimming the Dayton Cettiles in a top-sided game at Memorial Hall last night.

Baskets were made with such speed by the local tossers, that the scorekeepers got all balled up, but the score at the end of the game was somewhere around 75 to 10.

The visitors were simply dazed by the brand of ball put up by the Lima aggregation, and the quintet ran about the floor like a herd of stranded cattle.

A fairly sized crowd attended the game, and the spectators were well pleased with the contest all the way through.

Just a few seconds after the start of the game, Baker received a long pass while in the middle of the floor.

He shot it at the basket, and to the surprise of all players and spectators it passed thru the basket as if it were greased.

Baker off form

Altho not playing up to his standard, this raggy center won much praise again. He registered eight baskets, but missed several good shots that he would ordinarily make.

Thomas followed up Baker's goal with another pretty shot, and when the game was ended this speedy forward had registered 16 field goals.

Seven points were made by the Daytonians in the first half, and on two in the second.

Garford girls won from the Gramm-Bernstein girls 5 to 3 in a curtain raiser, concluding a series of two out of three games.

Line up and summary of the Legion game follows.

IGNORANCE OF RULES IS NO EXCUSE--?

CHICAGO - Ignorance of the rules of the game will govern organization of baseball under the regime of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis as baseball commissioner will not be accepted as an excuse for their violation by players, club owners or league officials, said President John E. Hendler, of the National League today.

In order that the public and every one connected with baseball be well informed of the conditions under which baseball will enter the new year, Hendler is having published a pamphlet containing every regulation and contract entered into between club owners or leagues at any of the various meetings this winter.

COPIES OF CONTRACTS

The book will contain copies of the new form of players' contract, the contract with Judge Landis, the new minor league agreement and numerous other documents.

Copies will be sent to every player and owner, to all newspapers and to any one else who asks for one, Hendler said.

While the newspaper accounts generally have informed the public of the new governing rules, we want every one interested to have a copy of the important agreements to read and to refer to," said Mr. Hendler.

JOURNEY OF SOUTH ENDS IN A DRASTIC DEFEAT; POOR GAME

Basket Teams are Up-To-Date

BATON ROUGE, La. —Capt. B. Hayes of the Louisiana State university basketball team today announced that two games had been arranged with the naval station quiliat at Miami, Fla., and that the players from the naval station will fly from Miami to this place in four hydroplanes, arriving here Feb. 6 and playing Feb. 7 and 8.

It will be the first time in this section that any basketball team has flown by airplane from one place to another.

It is understood that the Miami flyer will also play Tulane university at New Orleans after leaving here and then fly to Springfield college at Mobile and thence back home.

While Central Hi was trimming Tiffin here Friday night to the tune of 42 to 6, Fostoria was drubbing South Hi on their home floor and succeeded in easily defeating the local aggregation by the one-sided score of 34 to 12.

According to Coach Young of South, his team seemed affected with stage fright and put up a really poor game. In passing, they were rotten and did not know what to do with the ball when they got their hands on it.

On the big Fostoria floor, they time and again dribbled out of bounds. They were lost on a bit floor, and unless they get playing a better brand of ball within the next few days, Central will slaughter them next Thursday night when the two teams hook horns on the Central Hi floor.

It was little trouble for Central to swamp Tiffin by the lopsided score Coach Destrack used numerous substitutes during the game, and at no time did the visitors have a peep at the score.

LAUGHIN IS A STAR

Captain Laughlin was easily the star of the game. He could dribble down the center of the floor with ease, and slip the ball thru the basket with surprising ease. He is a corner, and a man to be feared by contenders.

South last week defeated Tiffin by only 12 points and now Central comes along and wallops them by 39 points.

EMPLOYMENT FOR REFORMERS

IN these days of intensive reform by legislative process there can be no limit to the activities of the zealous folk who consecrate their lives—for a consideration—to the work of serving as their brothers' keepers, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

With prohibition established, somewhat precariously perhaps, and with weird blue Sabbath laws being strenuously urged, there yet remains the labor of removing all trace of the delinquencies of the heretofore esteemed great in the literary world. Expurgation of histories, biographies, works of philosophy, science and fiction invites the activities of the millionaires.

Even nature must be taken in hand and taught. Her immemorial practice of fermentation now not only is illegal, but immoral, as well. Gentle Robin Redbreast, too, must be curbed and corrected in his habits. When the fall days come Robin hides himself southward for an annual, shameless jag. He is a red haw jagger. When he arrives south he promptly proceeds to fill up on the intoxicating berries and so, all too often, assists in the filling of innumerable pot hunters who take advantage of his celebrations.

And there is Cromwell, the "brewer." We must, for the sake of the coming generations, get that shameful association out of the books. Too, we must remove references to Milton's love for a pot of ale. He might have written a better "Paradise Lost" without it.

Burns and Poe and Byron and Sandeclair, we must get rid of most of their "stuff." Long-fellow needs pruning. Shakespeare must be purged. Even the Scriptures must be redeemed from any kindly references to that which Israel's king declared affected the heart to merriment. Our children never must learn that Dickens liked his hot toddy and sometimes toddled to (God's Will), after a shameful session with Thackeray at the Magpie Inn. Forget we must, the miles which Swinburne confesses daily to have walked in order to get a glass of good beer. Macaulay's weekly "drunk" must be embalmed and laid away in chambered silence.

If we be zealous and unremitting in our labors for reform it may be possible that, by and by, we shall be able to mold sinful mortals to the American reform pattern; and then, in the words of the facile cartoonist, "Oh, what a grand and glorious feeling" we shall have!

STILL TALKING WAR

SOME men of prominence in France seem determined to make it possible to have another war before the world is done entirely with conflict, says the Dayton News. M. Scelle, professor of international law at Dijon university, makes a survey of the European situation and immediately is alarmed. Whether or not he is endeavoring to ape President Wilson's "Fourteen Points," or just chanced to arrive at this number, Prof. Scelle has laid down fourteen reasons or rather causes for a future conflict. Of course, a human being could sit down and figure out a way to originate war. Men in madhouses would be smart enough to do this if they controlled the destinies of the world. But the thing that is paramount just now is for people to quit talking about war and stop trying to find a cause for it. If half the energy generated in behalf of hostility were turned in the direction of harmony the universe would forget its animosities quickly. The French are impatient and imaginative. The only way to perpetuate peace is to keep on looking and working for it. The man who goes about with a chip on his shoulder or looking for trouble generally is the man who gets what he is looking for. Any nation which forgets the privilege of peace at least owes it to other races to interest itself in something else besides antagonism. If for no other reason than universal obligation to others it would pay some of our warmakers who pose as lovers of peace to remain silent.

DETERMINED UPON DYING

AUSTRIA offers the instance of a nation bent on suicide, says the Toledo Blade.

Economically the country is a chaos. Industry is worse than crippled. The currency is worth just a shade better than nothing. Last summer when the land cried for tillers, the city populations clung tightly to their streets. Today the less fortunate of these inhabitants journey far into the country to dig over the frosty fields for frozen potatoes and to gather the fagots in forests. A moving picture, presented in the United States, showed a procession of these cold-bitten, half-starved gleaners.

On top of these evils, the state railway employees threaten a general strike. Communists are planning the forcible seizure of the government. Politicians are capitalizing the situation into a demand upon the Allies for loans, provisions and the granting of the right to join what is left of Austria to Germany.

The salvation of the country lies, of course, in the readjustment of the economic machinery. Austria can no more hope to remain a land of flourishing cities, her excuse for cities being lost, than Russia could after the cutting of the links between the large communities and the agricultural districts. A resort to politics for a cure is like turning to fancy work as a relief from the gnawings of cancer. The working of the few industries even the haltingly, wards off starvation. A general strike of railway workers would bring famine in a galloping.

Austria appears to be determined upon suicide, not upon preserving her life.

NATIONAL THRIFT

THERE is no necessity, of course, of going to a man who is down and out, or who doesn't know where his next meal is coming from, and talking thrift, comments the Springfield News. Lots of the down and outers would be occupying more comfortable positions today if they had exhibited a more thrifty spirit in other days. But a hungry man doesn't need to be told that economy in eating is essential, any more than the bankrupt has to be cautioned against profligacy. We are in the midst of another thrift movement in America. The minds of men, women and children are being directed in the channels of saving, economy, thriftiness. There always is need for such a movement because the element of thrift is not natural to humans. We waste more natural gas, more water, more electricity, more money, more mental effort than is absolutely necessary. When we come to paying the bill we realize our mistake. Being thrifty doesn't need to mean entirely putting every penny you have away. One can be thrifty in other ways. How do you spend your time, your employer's time, your mental resources? Are you economical with your natural powers as well as your money?

WHAT the STARS PREDICT
This is a fortunate day. Scholars and scientists benefit greatly by this rule of the stars, and it is predicted that they will receive unusual recognition and honors. There are indications that the artistic development of the country will be hastened by improved community organizations. This is a lucky wedding day. Persons whose birthday this is, may expect a prosperous year. They will have increased fortunes, but must guard against a temptation to spend their financial gains foolishly. Children born today will be fastidious, but will be able to earn enough to gratify their tastes. (Copyright, 1921.)

A WOMAN'S RECOMMENDATION
Mrs. D. T. Traver, Franklin Ave., Oriskany, N. Y., writes: "Nine years ago I was very much afflicted with kidney trouble. I bought a box of Foley's Kidney Pills. I realized so great a benefit from the use of this box that I feel safe in recommending Foley's Kidney Pills to any kidney sufferers. They relieve back-ache, sore muscles, rheumatic pains and bladder ailments." Chas. J. Vorkamp, Main and McKibben-sts.,—Adv.

A Tropic Scene In "The Riddle-Woman" Coming to Lyric Tomorrow

Why Does Love Often Perish in the Fires of Its Own Passion? See "Riddle-Woman" Starting Tomorrow at the Lyric Magnetic in its appeal, and charged throughout with all the mystery the passions, and the elusive charm of womanhood, "The Riddle-Woman," with Geraldine Farrar in the leading role, will be the offering at the Lyric tomorrow. Gorgeous gowns, costly jewels, magnificent settings, guaranteed without further embellishment entertainment extraordinary. It is the sensational story of a woman's inner life, heretofore never quite so truthfully told. It reflects the moods and mystery of a woman's heart. It discloses the passions and tenderness of a woman's nature. "Equally exquisite in her wrath as she was in her tenderness," she made this man this cheater of women—cringe under the fury of her emotion. "It was that his heart flamed with the desire of possession." You get the drift of the story. You can easily imagine the real vital problems which interest appeal to us all, are wonderfully dealt with in this production. The title of itself is a guarantee of the picture's merit. "The Riddle-Woman" means after all is said and done, the real woman for all women riddles? Don't miss it, starting tomorrow at the Lyric.

A Pound of GOLMAR The New Nut Butter FREE

Save the Golmar cartons until you have five, give them to your grocer or butcher and he will give you a pound of Golmar free.

This offer is good until February 12.

If you have not started to use Golmar, you should do so at once, not merely because of the free pound offer, but because Golmar is the most wonderful butter spread in the world.

Golmar is equalled only by the choicest freshest creamery butter and is not surpassed by anything. It gives you all the satisfaction of using the most expensive creamery butter but costs no more than ordinary nut butter and less than many oleos.

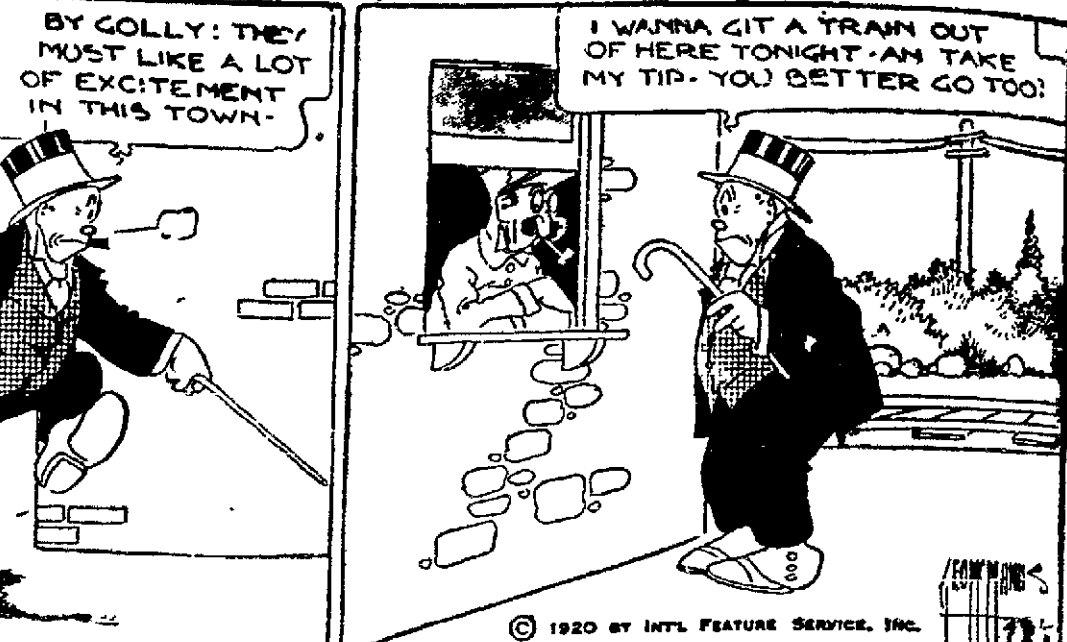

Use Golmar. You will not only have a superior butter spread for your table but your butter bill, because of the free pound offer, will be less the next four weeks than ever before.

Every pound of Golmar unconditionally guaranteed. Your money back if you don't like it.
